Dartmouth Alumni Travel

Dear Alumni, Parents, and Friends:

Cruise the ancient trade routes of Phoenician, Roman and Moorish mariners aboard the Five-Star small-ship LE LYRIAL on this comprehensive itinerary to the coastal jewels of the Iberian Peninsula.

The exclusively chartered LE LYRIAL exemplifies the advantages of Five-Star, small-ship cruising: elegant accommodations, an exclusive itinerary carefully crafted with a specially arranged excursion in each port, the ability to dock in small ports of call inaccessible to larger vessels and no long lines for tenders and touring. This state-of-the-art small ship features only 110 Suites and Staterooms with distinctive French sophistication, so you can travel in style during the unique opportunity to cruise into the heart of Seville on Spain's legendary Guadalquivir River.

En route from Barcelona to Lisbon, admire four UNESCO World Heritage sites and experience Portugal's lesser-traveled Algarve region. Call on the enchanting Balearic Island of Mallorca and visit its vibrant capital city, Palma de Mallorca. Explore the colorful, historic city of Valencia and walk through its spectacular La Lonja de la Seda, the city's UNESCO World Heritage-designated 15th-century former Silk Exchange. Visit the regal city of Granada and tour the magnificent Alhambra Palace, a UNESCO World Heritage site. Stand on Gibraltar's "Top of the Rock" to see the Pillars of Hercules spanning the scenic Strait of Gibraltar. Experience the spectacular sights that inspired works of art by Gaudi and Picasso, and enjoy the lively beat of flamenco. Onboard lectures will enhance your journey with the history, legends and contemporary life in these beautiful cities and villages.

Along with like-minded travelers from Columbia University, Harvard University and University of Pennsylvania, join us for this exclusive itinerary, which sells out quickly each year. I encourage you to reserve now while space is still available!

Warm regards from Hanover,

Robin K. Albing, Tu '81

Study Leader

Since joining the History Department in 1974, David Lagomarsino has introduced generations of Dartmouth students to the dynamic history of Spain's Golden Age. Professor Lagomarsino is a three-time recipient of the Jerome Goldstein Award for Distinguished Teaching, which is bestowed annually by vote of the graduating class to recognize "undergraduate teaching of the highest order." He was the inaugural holder of the Charles Hansen Professorship, and his career-long contributions to undergraduate education were recognized at the time of his retirement earlier this year with the award of the Robert A Fish 1918 Memorial Prize.

After earning degrees at Harvard (A.B. in History & Literature) and Cambridge (Ph.D. in History), Professor Lagomarsino dedicated his research to the reign of Philip II—the Spanish king who ruled a vast global empire on which the sun literally never set. Coastal Iberia's itinerary provides a fascinating backdrop for Lagomarsino to talk about how this imperial behemoth arose out of the territorial, religious and cultural fragments of medieval Iberia, emerging as a state unlike any in Europe. He will also explore how Spain's unique strengths masked weaknesses that brought about its eventual decline. In the past, Professor Lagomarsino has joined alumni and friends of Dartmouth on trips to the Iberian Peninsula, France, Italy and along Adriatic and Aegean waters.

Flourishing Cultures of Historic Iberia and the Age of Discovery

The inimitable Iberian Peninsula showcases fortified medieval towns and modern cities that retain incredible artistic and architectural treasures from centuries past. Previous exposure to the Greeks and Romans, as well as the diverse Moorish, Jewish and Christian cultures, ushered in great advances in mathematics, medicine, optics, horticulture and philosophy.

This blossoming of knowledge and talent was the impetus behind the Golden Age of Discovery, when ships sailed from these shores to the New World. These voyages brought back riches to Iberia, which created great wealth amidst the unique mélange of cultures, giving rise to the art, architecture and distinctly Mediterranean tradition of savoring life in the idyllic seaside cities towns and villages you will experience.

The Algarve, Portugal

Basking on Portugal's sun-washed southern coast, the historic province of the Algarve was settled in ancient times by the Phoenicians and Romans and later ruled by the Moors.
