Sorrento | Amalfi Coast | Positano | Isle Of Capri

Admire the natural splendor of the UNESCO World

Heritage-designated Amalfi Coast on a panoramic drive passing sun-drenched beaches to the medieval village of Positano. Enjoy a short orientation tour and some time on your own to explore the charming local boutiques and cafes. Return to the ship for lunch on board as we sail to Capri. Tour captivating Capri, the island where, legend has it, Homer's Odysseus resisted the alluring call of the sirens. Visit the Augustus Gardens, a series of serene, flower-filled terraces with breathtaking panoramas of the Faraglioni rock formations rising from translucent waters and the craggy peak of Mount Solaro, the highest point on the island. You will also see the ancient perfumery of Carthusia — the smallest fragrance laboratory in the world.

Day 8 | May 25 B-L-R-D

Salerno

Start the day with a special visit to the Museum of the Landing and Salerno Capital, accompanied by Professor Eisenhower. The museum is dedicated to the events of Operation Avalanche, the Allied landing on September 9, 1943, as part of the broader Italian Campaign, and the period when Salerno briefly served as Italy's capital during World War II. Exhibits include maps,

Bonifacio, France

Duomo of Salerno Crypt

photographs and military artifacts such as WWII uniforms, weapons, field equipment and jeeps used by both Allied and Axis forces, offering a glimpse into wartime conditions. A large-scale diorama recreates the landing, showing troop movements and key locations, and personal testimonies and videos provide an immersive experience of wartime Salerno. Learn about this lesser-known chapter of WWII history and better understand Salerno's importance in shaping post-war Italy.

Village of Monterosso, Cinque Terre, Italy

Next, walk through Salerno's historic center to appreciate the charming mix of medieval streets, iconic landmarks and coastal beauty.

Continue to the Giardino della Minerva Garden, a 14th-century medicinal garden containing a rich collection of herbs and plants used in medieval medicine. The garden is a living museum designed on terraced levels connected by delightful fountains and staircases overlooking the Gulf of Salerno. In the botanical garden's peaceful atmosphere, learn about the ancient knowledge of herbal medicine.

You may return to the ship for lunch or stay in Salerno to craft your own path.

Join your fellow travelers for a Captain's Farewell Reception. Raise a toast to your remarkable journey.
