The mother keeps them in her heart
And guards their altar flame;
The still North remembers them,
The hillwinds know their name,
And the granite of New Hampshire
Keeps the record of their fame;
And the granite of New Hampshire
Keeps the record of their fame.

Dartmouth Undying

Dismissal

Postlude: "Toccata in F" C.M. Widor

In addition to those classmates we have lost since our last reunions, we continue to remember those who have gone before them.

“Dartmouth Undying”

Dartmouth! There is no music for our singing.

No words to bear the burden of our praise;

Yet how can we be silent and remember

The splendor and fullness of her days

Who can forget her soft September sunsets?

Who can forget those hours that passed like dreams?

The long cool shadows floating on the campus,

The drifting beauty where the twilight streams?

Who can forget her sharp and misty mornings,

The clanging bells, the crunch of feet on snow

Her sparkling noons, the crowding into Commons,

The long white afternoons, the twilight glow?

See! By the light of many thousand sunsets

Dartmouth Undying like a vision starts:

Dartmouth, the gleaming, dreaming walls of Dartmouth,

Miraculously builded in our hearts!
