Daniel Benjamin is the Norman E. McCulloch Jr. Director of the John Sloan Dickey Center for International Understanding. In that position, he was the principal advisor to Secretary of State Hillary Clinton on counterterrorism. Ambassador Benjamin was the longest-serving coordinator for counterterrorism since that position was created, and during his tenure, the Office of the Coordinator was elevated to become the Bureau of Counterterrorism. Prior to joining the Obama Administration, Benjamin was a senior fellow in Foreign Policy Studies and director of the Center on the United States and Europe at the Brookings Institution. From 2001 to 2006, he was a senior fellow at the Center for Strategic and International Affairs in Washington, and prior to that, he was a Jennings Randolph Fellow at the United States Institute of Peace. Amman, Jordan

Amman’s wealth of archaeological artifacts stands testament to centuries of cultural influences. This biblical Ammonite city was conquered and renamed Philadelphia by Egypt’s King Ptolemy II Philadelphus in the third century B.C. Expanded by the Romans, Philadelphia flourished as the heart of Roman Arabia. From the Citadel, see the towering columns of the Temple of Hercules looming over the cosmopolitan capital of Amman, where the magnificent, 6000-seat Roman theater, dating from the second century, forms the city’s centerpiece and still stages performances. The lauded Jordan Museum preserves the world’s oldest statues, the remarkable plaster statuettes of ‘Ain Ghazal, adroitly fashioned in 6500 B.C. Everyone is welcome in the beautiful, blue-domed King Abdullah Mosque, built by the late King Hussein in honor of his grandfather.

Jerash

Often invoked as the “Pompeii of Asia,” Jerash’s remarkably preserved colonnaded avenues, ceremonial gates and golden-hued temples speak to its stature as one of the Roman Decapolis’s most important cities. Marvel at the prodigious Hadrian’s Arch, the intricately carved Temples of Artemis and Zeus and the immense scale and sublime architecture of the Forum.

Petra

The inspiring, ancient “rose-red city” of Petra is a UNESCO World Heritage site and one of the New Seven Wonders of the World. Petra reached its zenith during the first century B.C. as the capital of the nomadic Bedouin Nabataean Empire. Concealed behind towering rocks, the city ignited Western scholarly interest when Swiss explorer Johann Ludwig Burckhardt was led through the Siq—a narrow, serpentine gorge—to Petra’s spellbinding Khazneh (Treasury) by a Bedouin guide in 1812. The site’s majestic ensemble of temples, dwellings and tombs, carved directly into the sandstone cliff face, still holds a mythical appeal.

Photo this page: The mythology surrounding the Nile River has shaped the region’s consciousness for thousands of years.

See Queen Nefertari’s likeness on a specially arranged visit to her tomb.
Wadi Rum

Shaped and smoothed by millennia of winter floods and desert wind and sand, Wadi Rum was aptly described by British soldier and diplomat T. E. Lawrence, the legendary Lawrence of Arabia, as “vast, echoing and godlike.” This ethereal landscape of striated canyons, soaring jebel (mountains), undulating sand dunes and rocky caverns is best experienced from a four passenger open air vehicle.

Temples of Luxor and Karnak, Egypt

The treasures and architectural legacy of fabled Thebes—the imperial capital of Egypt’s New Kingdom (1550 to 1069 B.C.)—are revealed at stunning Karnak and Luxor Temples. Karnak’s vast complex of obelisks, shrines and sanctuaries reaches its apogee with the hypostyle hall, comprised of 134 colossal stone columns arranged in rows and emblazoned with hieroglyphs.

Marvel at the golden mask of child pharaoh Tutankhamen.
The Great Pyramids of Giza
The last remaining Wonder of the Ancient World, the pyramids of the Old Kingdom pharaohs Cheops, Chephren and Mycerinus, along with the Great Sphinx, are enduring symbols of the glory of Egypt that have towered over the Western Desert for nearly 5000 years. Nearby, Pharaoh Khufu’s reassembled funerary vessel, an incredible feat of ancient engineering, is housed in the Solar Boat Museum.

Suez Canal Transit
One of the most momentous voyages between continents transits the 120-mile Suez Canal, Egypt’s glorious, Victorian-era engineering achievement. The canal was first conceived in the 1830s by French explorer and engineer Linant de Bellefonds and opened in 1869. Connecting the Red Sea to the Mediterranean Sea, the canal reduced the journey between Europe and South Asia by over 4000 miles, redefining international maritime trade.

Alexandria or Cairo
Arrive in Alexandria and choose between a tour of the legendary city founded by 25-year-old Alexander the Great in 331 B.C. or the UNESCO World Heritage-designated treasures of Historic Cairo. The fulcrum of the ancient Hellenic world, Alexandria is Egypt’s most beguiling city. The Lighthouse of Alexandria—one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World—shone as a beacon of enlightenment, while the Library of Alexandria, with its vast archive of over 140,000 manuscripts and papyrus scrolls, formed a magnet for the ancient world’s greatest scientists, from Euclid to Archimedes. The Library’s visionary reincarnation, the Bibliotheca Alexandrina, constructed in 2002, resembles a giant discus emblazoned with hieroglyphs and symbolizes a second sun rising. Built on top of the remains of the Lighthouse of Alexandria, imposing Qaitbey Fort has served as a stronghold since 1480.

The city’s history can be traced from classical antiquity to modernity at the National Museum, where beautifully curated artifacts are housed in a restored Italianate villa. The cultural and religious heterogeneity that defined Alexandria in the second century is evident at the Catacombs of Kom El Shoqafa, Egypt’s largest Roman burial structure, lauded for its Egyptian, Greek and Roman sculpture, art and motifs.

Or, experience the grandeur of UNESCO World Heritage-designated Historic Cairo and the sublime Egyptian Behold Petra’s dazzling “rose-red” Nabataean façades, carved to honor a god said to inhabit the rocks. See beautifully preserved Qaitbey Fort, built to defend Alexandria from the Ottoman Empire.

Santorini, Greece
Widely considered to be the mythical lost city of Atlantis, Santorini overlooks a submerged caldera, the result of one of the most cataclysmic volcanic eruptions in history. Picture-perfect Santorini’s whitewashed villages of sugar-cube houses and blue-domed churches cascade to cerulean waters.

The remarkable Bronze Age ruins of Akrotiri, held intact by layers of pumice and ash for over 3500 years, reveal the architectural sophistication and advanced culture of its Minoan inhabitants. TRIP INSURANCE: We strongly recommend that you purchase trip cancellation insurance for your trip. In the event that you must cancel your participation in a travel program, trip cancellation insurance may be the only source of reimbursement. Trip cancellation insurance is available for comprehensive coverage of such expenses in conjunction with cancellation due to illness or accident, and damaged or lost luggage. We will send you an application upon receipt of your reservation.
